THE unfortunate disagreement between the Congress and the President in regard to the phraseology of the dependent peneion bill induces the NATIONAL REPUBLI-CAN to memorialize Congress to pass the following bill, which, as near as may be is in the language of the President in his last annual message recommending, the passage of such a bill :

Whereas every payloide heart responds to a tender consideration for those who, having served their country long and well, are reduced to destinuion and dependence, not as an inci-dent of their service, but with advancing ago or through sickness or misfortune;

Whereas we are all tempted by the contem pistion of such a condition to supply relief, and are often impatient of the limitations of public duty:

Whereas, yielding to no one in the desire to indulge this feeling of consideration, we can-not rid ourselves of the conviction that, if these ex-soldiers are to be relieved, they and their cause are cutilled to the benefit of an en-actment under which relief may be claimed as a right, and that such relief should be granted under the sanction of law, not in evasion of it; nor should such worthy objectof care, all equally entitled, he remitted to the unequal operation of sympathy or the tender mercies of social and political influence with their unjust discriminations:

Whereas, hitherto such relief has been granted to surviving soldiers, few in number tenerable in age, after a long lapse of time tince their military service, and as a parting rnefaction tendered by a grateful people Be il engeted, &c , that all Union so'diers who served long and well and are reduced to destitution and dependence, not as an incident of their service, but from advancing age or through sickness or misfortune, are entitled as a right to be placed on the pension rolls and receive the sum of $12 per month out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appro-

It is clear that in some way the Democracy of New York must come into cl the Democrats of the west. How to do this is the problem of the time. The gentleman from Aurora, 1nd., who Columbus (S. C.) Till then let us possess ourselves in patience and preserve our high self-respect.

Chicago Inter Ocean: The farce of civil service reform as played by the Democrats for the amusement of the Mugwumps is drawing to a close from lack of incident. There are very few tried officials left to whom the Mugwumps can point with pride as instances of their influence on the administration.

New York Star: There is no doubt that the Sherman boom is fairly launched. The resignation of the office of president of the Senate is only one feature in the programme to attract public attention to the great importance of the Ohio lender. There will be a great deal of talk about other candidates, but the real contest for the Republican commation will be between Sherman and Blaine.

Philadelphia Times: The people of the United States annually expend $900,000,000 for liquors, $500,000,000 for tobacco, $505,000,000 for bread, and $303,000 for meat. Of the money expended for liquors, it is estimated that $500,000,000 is taken from the wage workers of the land. Is it surprising that prohibition, local option, and high license convulse every state in the Union?

St. Louis Globe-Democrat: Dakota is not St. Louis Giobe-Democrat: Dakota is not able to get into the Union, but the fact that she is beginning to discover mummies in her remarkable geological formations may be said to indicate a determination on her part to show Secretary Bayard that when it comes to the matter of supplying the sort of material which he uses in making foreign ministers, she has claims which entitle her to respectful consideration at his hands.

Boston Journal: The advice of a con-temporary to young men to keep out of politics is good, if by politics it means office seeking and officeholding. If it means that young men should take no interest in public affairs and show their contempt for them by not voling, it is the worst sort of bad advice. Every man, and particularly every intelligent man, who has employment and business, should take an active interest in what is called politics.

Philadelphia Call: There is only one way Philadelphia Call: There is only one way to look at the bill providing for the redemption of the trade dollars. The people of this country took them at par and they should be redeemed at par. The United States issued them, and it is a quibble to say that they were never intended to circulate in this country. They did circulate, and they were freely taken by banks and business.
